

JUDITH VOGELSANG BIO

Judith Vogelsang is a filmmaker with over 25 years experience in film and television production, working in both fiction and nonfiction. She produced and directed the independent feature film, HEARTLESS, a psychological thriller starring Madchen Amick and Louise Fletcher (USA Network, worldwide distribution).

Judith received a DGA nomination for outstanding direction in a children's program for GOINGGREEN: Every Home an Eco-Home (2007). GOINGGREEN, is a half-hour, family program that mixes humor with everyday examples of ways to make your home more environmentally friendly. GG aired on public TV stations nationwide and is available on DVD from amazon.com, Green Planet Films, and many educational distributors. The program can be seen online on Google Play and other platforms. More info at www.goinggreenproductions.com

HUMBLE BEAUTY: Skid Row Artists is an award-winning, one-hour documentary about talented homeless and formerly homeless artists in the poorest area of L.A. known as Skid Row. Produced in partnership with Letitia Schwartz, it airs nationwide on public television stations through January 2016, distributed by American Public Television. HUMBLE BEAUTY is also available online from Google Play and other platforms. More info at www.humblebeauty.com and at www.facebook.com/humblebeautydoc.

SUV TAGGERS, a short doc about two amusing enviro activists, aired on The Documentary Channel and as part of the public TV series, Natural Heroes. It was a festival favorite and is available on DVD from National Film Network (www.nationalfilmnetwork.com) and for broadcast and digital venues from Shorts International (www.shortsinternational.com). It's available for streaming on www.Vidutopia.com.

Judith's prior directing credits include primetime network, dramatic, episodic television series and non-fiction specials for CBS, ABC, PBS, USA, Court TV and syndication. Judith worked as a staff director and producer of documentary, children's, news, and fiction programming for CBS and PBS affiliates in the midwest and on the east coast. She won a CINE Golden Eagle Award for the hour documentary, BUCKS COUNTY, USA.

Judith formed Stone Harbor Films, Inc., to develop and produce quality fiction and non-fiction projects for features, television and new media. Judith was an Emmy judge and continues as a judge for the annual DGA Student Film Awards. In 2005 she served as a panelist on the Mississippi Arts Commission's annual literary arts awards. Judith is a member of the Directors Guild of America, Academy of TV Arts & Sciences and Cinewomen Documentary Group. She lives in Los Angeles with her husband, poet and writer Arthur Vogelsang.